

RECOVERY is
COMMUNITY
NWPA

My kid wouldn't do drugs

You sure? Ask.

Talk about it.

Start talking to kids at a young age about making healthy choices.

Kids may be exposed to alcohol, tobacco and other drugs at any age and even become addicted. They may feel like it's ok to do drugs because everyone else is doing it. It's important for them to realize that's not true — most kids are choosing not to do drugs. Starting the conversation can feel awkward, so here are a few tips:

1 Be honest about the risks of using alcohol, tobacco and other drugs.

2 Try to use a calm, nonjudgemental tone and avoid accusing them of substance use.

3 Establish rules, expectations and consequences at an early age.

Look for the signs.

PHYSICAL CHANGES

Abrupt weight gain or loss

Bloodshot or glazed eyes

Pupils dilated or constricted

Shaking/tremors

Sleeping too much or trouble sleeping

Slurred speech

BEHAVIORAL CHANGES

Agitated or irritable

Fearful or paranoid

Mood swings, social changes, isolating

Unexplained absences or changes in grades

Unmotivated or distracted

Unusual need for money

DRUG-RELATED OBJECTS

Foil, spoons, cotton balls

Glass/metal pipe and lighter

Razor blades

Rubber cords and syringes

Small mirror

Straws/rolled-up dollar bills/paper

We're here for you.

Help is available regardless of your ability to pay.

Erie County Office of Drug and Alcohol

1-814-451-6877

Venango County Substance Use Program

1-814-432-9111

SAMHSA National Helpline (Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration)

Free, confidential, 24/7 treatment referral and information service.

1-800-662-HELP (4357)

Learn more.

Addiction is a treatable medical condition.

Visit community.recoveryisnwpa.org to learn more.

This project is supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as part of a financial assistance award totaling $1,000,000 with 100% funded by HRSA/HHS. The contents are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily represent the official views of, nor an endorsement, by HRSA/HHS or the U.S. Government.